Leanne DUFFY

A warm welcome to Boro and everyone who has travelled to Walton Hall Park today. They'll provide another strong test, particularly as they'll be looking to get their league campaign moving in the right direction.

Last weekend was a difficult result, we felt we our 2nd half performance deserved something from the game but the players have showed great character in training this week as we look to bounce back from the disappointment, learn from the game and continue our development as a group

It's great to welcome Emelia and Ellie to the club. They've both settled in really well and we're looking forward to seeing what they can contribute as the season progresses.

Congratulations to Angie on winning the Lioness Award.

It's fantastic recognition and thoroughly deserved. We're also excited to be nominated for two awards at the North West Football Awards, which is great recognition for everyone involved at the club.

Today is another opportunity to show our quality, compete with the right intensity and maintain the standards we've set ourselves.

Enjoy the game, and thank you as always for your fantastic support.

CHANTELLE THOMPSON

Hi everyone and welcome to today's game.

Last weekend was a tough one to take. To fight back twice against West Brom and then concede with the final kick of the game was heartbreaking, especially after the effort the girls put in.

I thought the character we showed throughout the game was really positive. We never gave up, kept pushing and kept believing we could get something from it. Obviously we were disappointed afterwards, but there were still things we can take from the performance.

The biggest thing now is how we respond

We've already shown this season that we can bounce back from difficult results, and that's exactly what we'll be looking to do today against Middlesbrough.

We know they'll give us another tough test and

There's still a really good feeling within the group. Everyone is working hard for each other and we know there's plenty more to come from us as the season goes on.

We're back at Walton Hall Park again today, so hopefully we can use that home support and give everyone something to enjoy.

Thanks as always for coming out and supporting us. It really does mean a lot to all of us.

Enjoy the game and come on, Feds!

Chan

THE RESPONSE

Football rarely gives you much time to dwell on a result.

For Liverpool Feds, last weekend provided one of those afternoons that can be difficult to shake off.

West Bromwich Albion struck with the final kick of the game at Walton Hall Park, snatching the points after Feds had twice fought their way back into the contest.

It was a cruel ending to a performance that had shown plenty of character.

Going behind once can change a game. Doing it twice and still finding a way back says something about the mentality within the group.

Feds kept competing, kept believing and refused to allow the visitors to pull away.

There was ultimately no reward for that effort, but performances like that can still provide something valuable.

The challenge now is making sure the disappointment becomes motivation.

Middlesbrough are next through the doors and bring another completely different challenge.

The Northern Premier Division rarely allows teams an easy afternoon, and every point has to be earned.

That makes the response to setbacks just as important as celebrating victories.

This Liverpool Feds squad has already shown that side of its character this season.

After the defeat at Peterborough, Feds answered with an impressive away victory at Hull City before putting together positive results in the League Cup.

Now comes another opportunity to respond.

Nobody inside the group will need reminding how close they came to taking something from West Brom.

The focus instead turns to what happens next.

A new opponent. A new 90 minutes.

I'd keep this page much lighter, with a big image from the West Brom game and only a short block above it:

Last weekend hurt.

But there were positives beneath the disappointment.

Twice Liverpool Feds fell behind. Twice they found a response.

That fight now has to carry into today.

WHAT MATTERS NOW IS THE RESPONSE.

MIDDLESBROUGH

On 26 May 2023, the club officially became re-affiliated with the men's team, and Michael Mulhern was announced as manager.

Middlesbrough played their first game at the Riverside Stadium on 17 September, a 0-0 draw against Stockport County.

Boro Women's first win at the Riverside came against Doncaster Rovers Belles, winning 5-0 with Ellen Turnbull scoring their first ever goal at the Riverside.

Middlesbrough Women's set their highest attendance in 2025 in their final home game of the season, hosted at the Riverside, where 4,083 Boro fans saw the Teessiders win 7-0.

The club won the 2024/25 Division One North and were promoted back to the National League North on the final day after a 3-0 win over Barnsley at Oakwell.

SHARING THE LOAD

One of the most encouraging features of Liverpool Fed's opening weeks has been where the goals have come from.

Rather than relying on one player to carry the attacking threat, contributions have arrived from across the squad.

The 5-1 opening-day victory over Derby County set the tone, with five different goalscorers finding the net at Walton Hall Park.

That trend continued away at Hull City.

Thompson, Brady, Walters and Butcher all got on the scoresheet as Fed's produced another four-goal display on the road.

Different positions. Different players. The same end result.

For any side hoping to compete across a long season, that variety can make a huge difference.

The cup campaign has only added to that picture.

Smith produced a moment of individual quality to decide the trip to AFC Fylde, finding the net with a superb free-kick in a tight 1-0 win.

Then, against Chorley, Duffy struck twice while Johnson and Walters added goals of their own as Fed's ran out 4-0 winners.

It means the attacking responsibility is already being spread throughout the group.

For opposition sides, that creates another problem.

It is still early in the campaign, but Liverpool Fed's are already showing that when it comes to finding the net, everyone has a part to play.

7 DAYS AGO

2 LIVERPOOL FEDS

3 WEST BROM

Liverpool Feds were left heartbroken at Walton Hall Park as West Bromwich Albion struck with the final kick of the game to snatch the points.

It was a tough afternoon against a strong Albion side, but Feds showed plenty of character throughout and refused to let the game get away from them.

After falling behind, the hosts responded well and worked their way back into the contest. West Brom then regained the advantage, only for Feds to fight back for a second time.

The response summed up the spirit within the group. Feds kept pushing, competed for every ball and looked determined to take something from the game.

With the contest heading towards a draw, both sides continued to search for a winner in the closing stages.

Unfortunately for Feds, the decisive moment arrived right at the death.

West Brom found the net with the final kick of the game, leaving the hosts with no time to respond and bringing a cruel end to an otherwise spirited performance.

The result was difficult to take after Feds had twice battled their way back into the game, but there were still positives to carry forward.

The character and resilience shown throughout the afternoon underlined the fight within the squad, even if there was ultimately no reward at the final whistle.
